

Babysitter Training

American Safety Health Institute Babysitter Training is designed to teach 11-15 year olds the responsibilities involved in being a good babysitter. Participants will learn how to have fun with kids but stay in control, choosing toys that are age appropriate, basic care such as feeding and diaper changing, how to handle scrapes, bruises and life threatening emergencies. Participants who finish this class will not have current CPR or first aid training, however, will receive Babysitter Training certification. Space is limited so register early! All participants should bring a bag lunch.
